

Each quarter, THE NEW ENGLAND JOURNAL OF HIGHER EDUCATION (formerly Connection) features expert commentaries and hard-hitting analysis on key issues in higher education and economic development. Our articles explore topics ranging from the education of America's future engineers to immigration in the global economy to new measures of learning. Our authors include national leaders such as Ted Kennedy and Margaret Spellings ... noted educational commentators like Century Foundation senior fellow Richard Kahlenberg, former Lesley University President Margaret McKenna and College Board economist Sandy Baum ... And gadflies including higher education analyst Cliff Adelman and author Peter Sacks.

Every Spring, THE NEW ENGLAND JOURNAL OF HIGHER EDUCATION examines critical trends in New England higher education. The journal's annual "Trends and Indicators" issue features a rich collection of figures and expert perspectives on trends in enrollment, financing of higher education, student aid, research and development and more.

In November, NEBHE publishes its Annual Directory of New England Colleges and Universities as a special bonus issue of the journal. Compiled each year through an exclusive NEBHE survey, this comprehensive directory features vital information on each of New England's nearly 270 colleges and universities, including data on enrollment, endowment, tuition, fees, room-and-board charges and campus employment, as well as the names and titles of thousands of campus administrators.
