How to become eligible and apply for Tuition Break

What is Tuition Break?

The New England Board of Higher Education (NEBHE) Tuition Break – officially known as the New England Regional Student Program (RSP) – enables eligible students to be charged a “regional” tuition rate, which is lower than the regular out-of-state tuition rate.

How Massachusetts residents become eligible

Students are eligible when they enroll in degree programs that are not offered by Massachusetts state colleges and universities – but are offered through the RSP Tuition Break by state colleges in other New England states.

NEBHE publishes annual lists of associate, bachelor's and graduate degree programs that are approved through the RSP Tuition Break.*

This brochure lists the bachelor's programs.

How students apply

- Select a college that offers a degree program approved through the RSP Tuition Break.
- Complete that college's admissions application and declare the RSP degree program as their intended major.
- Once accepted to the college, confirm with the admissions office that the college has granted RSP status.

Other eligibility options

Some colleges allow proximity eligibility – for students living closer to an out-of-state college.*

Some community colleges allow eligibility for most or all of their programs.*

Students should contact the college admissions office for further details.

Tuition savings

The average annual savings through the RSP Tuition Break is $7,000. NEBHE publishes annual tuition rates and RSP savings for the individual participating colleges.*

*Details are available online at www.nebhe.org/tuitionbreak, or by contacting NEBHE.

The bachelor's degree programs approved through the New England Regional Student Program (RSP) for Massachusetts residents are listed below. Each program is offered only by the college(s) indicated. Some programs have special requirements and/or restrictions and may not be available to freshman students: Read the footnotes.
